

NEW APPROACHES TO SUSTAINABILITY

MATEO

27 November – 2 December, 2022

Berlin, Germany

Epeka Germany organised training for youth workers as part of the New Approaches to Sustainability project.

The overall objective of the project was to train and empower youth workers in the three core areas mentioned above, so that they can train young people in them. The following specific objectives led to the general objective:

- To investigate the state of play of the project's content areas in the partner countries and present the findings to the other partners.
- Training of youth workers in CE and environmental protection
- Increase young people's knowledge and understanding of the project areas through local activities.
- To provide youth workers with the knowledge and skills to deliver better youth activities on the project themes in their local organisations.
- To enable youth workers to work better with vulnerable groups.
- Strengthen the sense of community among European youth workers.
- Develop a platform of youth organisations working on green issues and develop new initiatives in the future.
