A GOOD LIFE FOR ALL WITHIN THE PLANETARY BOUNDARIES

EPEKA

17 July, 2023

Vienna, Austria

Štefan Simončič, President of the Association EPEKA, participated in the event A Good Life for All Within the Planetary Boundaries held in Vienna.

The demands of climate activists and scientists are becoming louder and more persistent. Their demonstrations and disruptive actions are becoming increasingly uncomfortable and are currently the subject of heated debates regarding their appropriateness. On the other hand, politicians are committing to the Paris climate goal but are not taking the necessary measures to achieve it. Based on this, the central question is: how can we achieve a good life for all without exceeding the ecological limits of our planet?

As part of the opening event of the Alternative Economic and Monetary Systems (AEMS) and Green.Building.Solutions summer universities, we discussed this question with experts and explored possible solutions in detail.
