Everyone who pays income tax in Slovenia can donate up to 1% of their income tax to NGOs. Each taxpayer can choose up to five organisations to donate 1% of their income tax to. Such a donation does not cost the donor anything, as this percentage goes into the budget.

How?

You can find all the details on the CNVOS website, where you can also find a form to donate 1% of your income tax via eTaxes.

The taxable person can also submit the request for the allocation of part of the income tax electronically via the FURS eTaxes e-commerce service, where there are 2 options:

- Registration with a digital certificate on the FURS\_entry website,
- Registration with a user account and password: on the FURS\_entry website, for the first registration, a tax number and an email address are entered, to which a password is then sent; the number from the IID (Informative Income Tax Calculation) document, which the taxpayer receives each year, is also required. For each subsequent declaration, only the tax number and password are entered.

On the entry page, select "Taxpayer details" and then "Allocation of part of the income tax", where the tax number of the association (our tax number is 62581350) and the % to be allocated to the association are entered, and click on "Submit application".

The deadline for submitting the form for allocating part of the income tax to NGOs is: 31.12.2023.

THANK YOU for contributing to better quality programmes and activities of EPEKA, Soc.
