

INTERNATIONAL TRAINING COURSE "GREEN HORIZONS" – EMPOWERING YOUTH WORKERS FOR A SUSTAINABLE FUTURE

5 – 13 March 2025

Sobrado (Galicia, Spain)

The international training course "Green Horizons" – Empowering Youth Workers for a Sustainable Future will take place in Sobrado, Spain.

The "Green Horizons" training course aims to bring together 28 youth workers or youth leaders over the age of 18 from eight countries (Greece, Serbia, Italy, Portugal, Slovakia, Estonia, Slovenia and Spain) in rural Galicia. There will be seven participants from Spain and three from each of the other countries.

During these days, they will create a space for non-formal education, where they can learn, exchange and develop methodologies for innovative tools to promote sustainability among young people.

With a pedagogical approach based on experiential learning, group facilitation and social-affective methodology, the training course will offer a unique opportunity to explore regenerative and sustainable solutions that address the climate crisis and rural depopulation, two key challenges for the present and future of rural areas in Europe.
